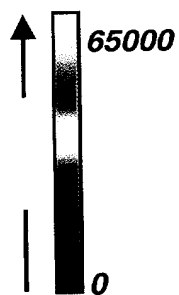

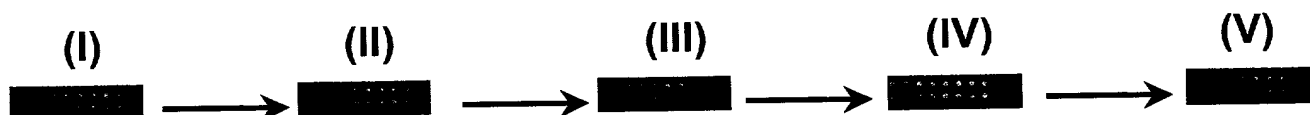

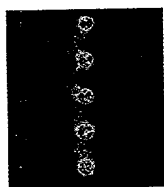

Figure 3 shows two panels, (A) and (B), each displaying a sequence of five rectangular blocks labeled (I) through (V) connected by arrows. Panel (A) shows a progression from a solid black block (I) to a block with many white dots (IV), and finally to a solid black block (V). Panel (B) shows a similar progression, but with a different distribution of white dots in blocks (II) and (III). A vertical scale bar is located to the left of panel (B), with an upward-pointing arrow and labels '65000' at the top and '0' at the bottom.
